The Information Gold Rush is Upon Us

In 1848, when GOLD was first discovered in California, news traveled fast and soon sparked a massive mobilization of men, equipment and hopes to make it big in the West! Miners relied on the best intel they could retrieve regarding land, equipment and processes. Intelligence back then was hard to come by, paired with archaic tools for digging, the search for gold was no easy feat. Still they pressed on in HOPES of getting rich!

People these days are no different, except we don't have to stake claims or go digging in the mud.... Or maybe we do? How do people find the best news source on politics, technology or even health? With recent headlines highlighting the fraudulent election of 2020, GameStop Short Selling fiasco and COVID-19, we actually have to put some time into what we ultimately decide to do and what to believe. We have to go digging through the mud of fake news to make an informed decision. Ok, back to what this has to do with planning for your future and stuff. What if I told you there is something that has been lurking underneath the mud for quite some time now? All one must do to uncover this newfound GOLD MINE is to just DO SOME DIGGING in the mud. That's right, YOU will be rewarded in this information Gold Rush by figuring it out before the next guy, by sifting through the fake news and coming to your own conclusion.

I'm not here to give you financial advice or to tell you how to save for your kid's college fund. I am here to wake you up and tell you there is SOMETHING BIG and you are missing it. It's been in your face for years now and no one can stop it. It's Worldwide, runs 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, it gets stronger, faster and will consume your thoughts once you finally solve the puzzle. This isn't some new tech gadget or multi-level marketing gimmick. I said this is going to take some time on your part. Do you have what it takes to do some of your own research? Can you have an open mind? Are you mentally and spiritually tough enough to handle it? Will you at least do your family a favor and put some solid effort in? After all, at this point, I care more about your future than you do! I want you to succeed! Please know I am really pulling for you to figure it out sooner, rather than later, because eventually you will have no choice! Either way you will buy Bitcoin at the price you deserve.

That's right, Bitcoin. I probably lost at least half of you by now, and that's ok. In fact, I feel sorry for them. It won't matter much to you or me; they will eventually have their own collision course with the destiny of evolution. I was just trying to give them a head start. Ok, so where do we go from here? I'm not going to bore you with numbers and charts. I am going to tug at your philosophical side and talk about scarcity and time. I am going to quote the late Julian Simon who proclaimed, "The only scarce resource is human time". Simon's Book The Ultimate Resource directs his thesis on why there is no resource crisis. In simple terms scarce resources such as gold, copper, etc aren't really that scarce. In fact if there was a financial incentive (like an ounce of gold at 100K) people would put more time/resources and pull more gold out of the ground. In today's world, we see a manipulated precious metals market, a monopolized diamond market and real inflation at the rate of double digits from endless money printing. Did you know the Federal Reserve printed 9 trillion dollars in 2020 alone? That is 22% of the current circulating supply.

What is money? Money is an attempt to save our wealth across time. How does one preserve the fruits of our labor to spend later? Human time is a scarce resource that you can never make more of. If our time on earth is finite and central bankers can print infinite amounts of money, what they are actually doing is stealing TIME from you. They are literally stealing the most precious & personal scarce resource from you!!! What if we had a truly finite liquid asset that you could not make more of? In other words Bitcoin has a finite amount of 21 million coins wherein nobody can increase the supply. Life on Earth is finite so should not your money be correlated in the same respect as being finite?

The Gold miners traveled thousands of miles with little more than hearsay about magical orange rocks in the West. Bitcoin the magical orange coin turned twelve on Jan 3 this year and has still never been hacked, offline or controlled by a centralized authority. This is just an introduction into thinking differently about how to plan for the future and I highly recommend you don't trust some jerk on the internet. I highly encourage all of you to do some research, apply critical thinking and figure out where to go from there. And remember "Everyone buys bitcoin at the price they deserve."
